

Environmental Registry as a Service

Our Environmental Registry as a Service is a centralized platform that enables efficient end-to-end management of environmental projects and credit activity, including the issuance, transfer, and retirement of serialized carbon, water and biodiversity credits. It has recently been enhanced to be more scalable and serve a wider audience of participants.

Who Does the Environmental Registry support?

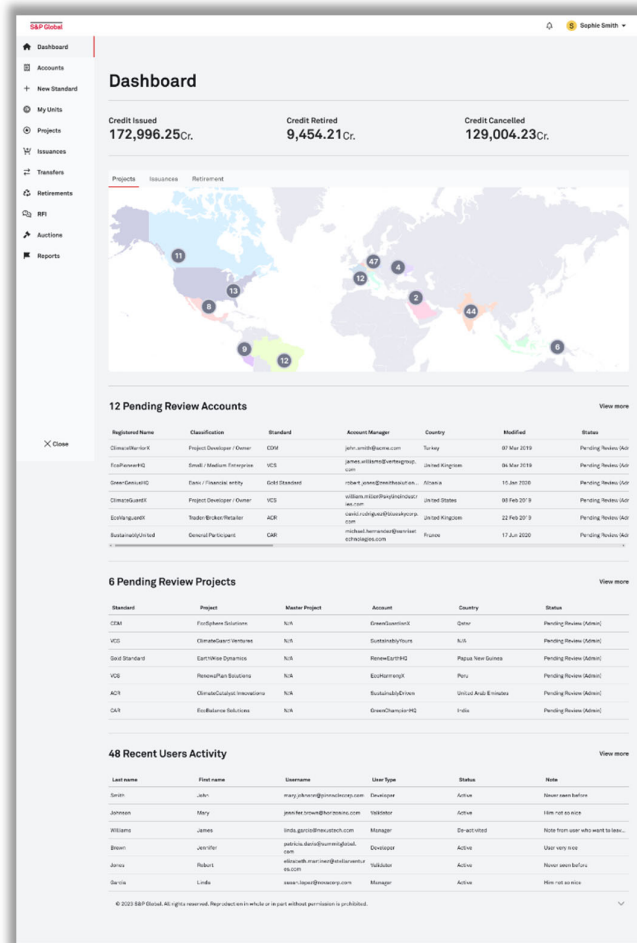

Regulators and standards bodies implementing environmental standards/programs

Market participants including project developers looking to list credits and buyers sourcing credits
